National Mission on Teachers and Teaching (PMMMNTT)

ABOUT PMMMNMTT

The Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya National Mission on Teachers and Teaching emphasises the need to change the role and task of a teacher from mere disseminator of information and knowledge to the one who advances frontiers of existing knowledge by actively developing and creating new insights into diverse social and physical phenomena.

ABOUT MHRFDC

Mahatma Hansraj Faculty Development Centre has been established under the aegis of Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India, under the scheme Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya National Mission on Teachers and Teaching (PMMMNMTT). As per the scheme of PMMMNMTT, "faculty development programmes include four types of developments: personal (interpersonal skills, career development and life planning issues); instructional (course design and development, instructional technology); organizational (ways of support to faculty members so that they fulfil their multiple roles of teaching, research and service)". As a result of dynamic education environment, teachers in these times are expected to be more resourceful than they were earlier. The MHRFDC is an initiative by Government of India in this direction that aims towards the overall professional development of the teaching fraternity and enhancing the teaching environment with the requisite skills.

ABOUT DSPMU

Situated on the Tropic of Cancer, at an altitude of 651m from sea level amidst tropical flora and fauna, Ranchi College, Ranchi (now upgraded as a Unitary State University and known as Dr. Shyama Prasad Mukherjee University, Ranchi) had been established during the Pre- Independent India. Established in 1926 as a Government Intermediate College, it marched ahead and began Under-Graduate and post-graduate Courses in various subjects of Arts/Science in the year 1946. Even after Independence, Ranchi College continued to celebrate its recognition as Government College. Till the creation of Ranchi University on 12th July, 1960, it functioned as a Unit of Patna University, imparting quality Higher Education in faculties of Humanities, Science and Social Science. Following the creation of Ranchi University July 12th, 1960, Ranchi College had been placed as a Unit of Ranchi University by the then Government of Bihar. Based on its performance, the UGC accorded it the status of an "Autonomous College" in 2009. Also, it had been recognised by the UGC as "College with Potential for Excellence". And, on April 11, 2017 Ranchi College scripted a history and was upgraded as Unitary University, named as Dr. Shyama Prasad Mukherjee University, Ranchi.

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAMME
